LIKE BANQUO'S GHOST

Obstacles Are Bobbing Before the Friends of a City Plant.

NO STATUTORY AUTHORITY GIVEN

The Law Is Not Sufficiently Broad to Allow the Purchase of Land or the Construction of a Light Factory—Special Legislation Would Not Stand the Test.

It appears that the troubles of Councilman Stewart and his municipal light plant friends will never end. No sooner does the NEWS REVIEW show the folly of the city engaging in the light business than another factor appears to haunt and make even more unpleasant the rocky road these self-appointed guardians of the city have been treading through so many weary days.

The last obstruction is nothing more than the constitution of the state, the principles under which Ohio and its people are governed. It does not show as valid any measure, special act they usually call it, conferring corporate power upon this one town, giving East Liverpool an opportunity to erect and operate its own light plant, and leaving all other towns and cities, or cities of the same grade, to operate under the old system.

The laws as they are today do not give sufficient scope to include an electric lighting plant. Water and gas works are provided for by legislation which will stand any test; but there is nothing in the statutes admitting of a city building and operating a light plant. It is true the law allows any municipality to contract with a private individual or company, but there is not a word which directly permits municipalities to enter the business. Whether the law permitting the construction and operation of gas works would by analogy be applied to lighting plants, with electricity as a power, is a question which the courts would be compelled to decide. It is open to doubts of the gravest character, and with the matter once brought out in a manner to attract the attention of the men who deal in bonds, it is more than a possibility that East Liverpool would have few bidders, even though the city so far forgot its own interests as to decide upon a municipal plant.

There is still another side to the matter, and if it is conceded for a moment that there is no law allowing electric lighting plants, but a special act is necessary, would it bear the test of scrutiny in the courts? Would a law authorizing this city to issue bonds, buy land, install a plant, and operate that plant, live long provided its legality was questioned? It is more than probable that it would be in contradistinction to the teachings of the constitution. If the legislature should pass a general law, dealing with all alike, or would say that all municipalities of given or all grades should construct and operate lighting plants of this kind, then would the law stand, provided, of course, there be no defect or error in its construction. There are municipal lighting plants in Ohio; but it is safe to say the legality of their inception and existence has never been discussed, else they would not live long; this is the opinion of men who have followed the subject. It is a new question, municipal property in electric plants, and has not yet been passed upon.

The principle upon which the objection to special legislation is based is found in the thirteenth article of the constitution:

"The general assembly shall pass no special act conferring corporate powers."

Judge Brinkerhoff put the meaning of it when he once said: "The provisions of the constitution are as imperative, as comprehensive and emphatic as if the people speaking through their constitution had said: 'This ban, and curse of our legislation, as it existed under the latitudinarian provisions of the constitution of 1802, is, in future, utterly and absolutely prohibited. Henceforth the laws conferring corporate powers shall be general; affecting or liable to affect the interests of the constituency of every individual member of the general assembly; and so by powerful motives calling his attention to the effect of proposed enactments upon his own immediate constituency as well as upon the people of other localities. This is the policy and intent of the provisions of the constitution above quoted, and they are as clearly apparent as if they had been expressed in so many words.'"

There is no denying that argument. It is convincing and concise, and shows the utter uselessness of special legislation, so plainly has the constitution declared against it.

What would happen if the city, in violation of this section of the constitution, should secure the passage of a special act? Ask Salem. That place borrowed $125,000 on the strength of the validity of a special act for the construction of a railroad, and the bonds were declared uncollectable. The act conferred corporate power, and did not allow all cities of that class to build railroads. The whole county is familiar with the trouble Salem has experienced. In our case the bondholders might take the plant; but even that would be a question, and would East Liverpool, should they do this, have a municipal plant?

At best the journey would be tortuous. With the law opposing it, and the constitution behind the law, there is every reason for believing its life would be fraught with trial and sorrow. But by that time the spite of the personal enemies of Judge Smith would have been satisfied, a new council would be in office to bear the burden; but the same taxpayers would pay the expenses.

The question, new though it be, has been carefully investigated by leading attorneys of the city, and they arrive at the conclusion that it would be hazardous to attempt any movement looking to the erection and operation of a plant. Their opinions are contained in the above.

THEIR SILVER WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Allison Entertain Many Friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Allison last evening entertained in a delightful manner a large number of their friends in their rooms in the Golding building, the occasion being the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. A literary and musical program, made up of many numbers of merit, was a prominent feature of the evening's entertainment. All the delicacies of the season, daintily served, composed the refreshments. Rev. W. E. Sloane was the speaker, and in a cheerful manner congratulated Mr. and Mrs. Allison, and expressed the hope for the guests that they would live to celebrate another quarter century of married life under circumstances equally as favorable. Mr. and Mrs. Allison were the recipients of a large number of beautiful presents.

NOT NOTIFIED.

Therefore Henry Chambers Has a Well Developed Grievance.

When the board of health held the last special session they failed to notify Henry Chambers, who is a member of the board, of the meeting. Mr. Chambers will use his every effort to have the business transacted that evening set aside, and will probably succeed if the laws governing the board of health are the same as those governing council. The law requires that every member of council shall be notified of a special meeting, and if he is not, then all business transacted by the body is illegal. In case he remains away after being notified, the business transacted is legal in every way.

WE TALK MUCH.

According to Observations at the Telephone Exchange.

Commencing at midnight Monday, every operator in the employ of the telephone company was notified to keep a record of every call for the next 72 hours. In the central office of this city for the first 24 hours the number of calls ran close on to 1,500, something remarkable for a city of this size, where there are so many combination lines. The object in keeping track of the calls is to give the company some idea of their business.

BIG BUSINESS.

Is Expected by Bicycle Dealers For Next Year.

The bicycle business in the city the coming season bids fair to outrival that of any previous year. One of the most prominent bicycle dealers in the city, when asked of the outlook, said: "I have no doubt but what there will be more wheels sold in '97 in this city than ever before. This looks hardly probable, but when you look at the business done last year, and compare it with the year before, it is not at all impossible."

THEY OBJECT.

Mr. and Mrs. Brighthouse Make an Announcement.

The NEWS REVIEW received this morning a statement signed by John and Jane Brighthouse, parents of Elizabeth, in which they declare their intention of opposing the marriage of their daughter. They say she is but 13 years of age, and they will call in the law to prevent the ceremony if their published declaration is not sufficient. Prosecution will follow the individual who swears Elizabeth is of legal age.

The Storm.

The snow storm brought out a sleigh or two this afternoon, and made it necessary for the workmen on the bridge to quit.

MUSIC AND ORATORY

Combined With a Little Talk on Finances.

MADE THE BOARD MEETING NICE

Opened the Bond Bids and Found a Few Bidders Had Neglected a Provision or Two—The Tower Will Be Lighted—A Vacancy to Be Filled.

Music, oratory and some talk concerning its financial condition made last night's meeting of the board of education an unusually pleasant affair.

The members did not gather at the appointed time, business keeping so many away that it was long after 9 o'clock before a quorum was gathered together. Mr. Swan had brought his new graphophone with him, and the waiting time was pleasantly spent while Major McKinley accepted his nomination and Mr. Bryan nominated himself before the Chicago convention. Mr. Gladstone also entertained the board, delivering an address with all the power of his nature, while singers made excellent music in quartets, duets and solos. A chorus or two wound up the program, and the board was ready for business.

Mr. McGraw, Mr. Vodrey, Mr. McClain, Mr. Swan, Doctor Norris, and City Clerk Hanley were present when the report of light committee was asked. Mr. Norris said he had interviewed Mr. Purinton, who said the tower would be lighted if the contract was made with the company. The committee was continued, and will remain in force until the lights are put in. The following bills were ordered paid:

W. H. Adams, $1.77; A. Watson, $7.84; George H. Owen, $18; Crisis, $21.50; Eagle Hardware, $13.56; School Board Journal, $1; George W. Deidrick, $21.40; NEWS REVIEW, $21.25; Robert Moore, $159.71; Smith & Phillips, $4; J. McClain, $6.

The bill of Arbuthnot Bros., for $30, was held over, as was that of Andy Rattray for $6.50. The last was not endorsed by the janitor.

A communication from the state commissioner of public schools asked for a list of the city examiners, as he desired to embody them in his report. It then developed there was a vacancy on the board, the time of Superintendent Sanor having expired last August. After the matter was discussed for a few minutes, it was decided to make the appointment at the next meeting.

It developed that two notes, each for $2,350, were due at the Potters and First National banks Dec. 30, and two others, for $2,000 and $3,250, should be paid at the Potters Jan. 1. As the advance has not yet been received from Lisbon, it was decided to renew the notes until the money is placed to the credit of the board.

The bond bids were opened, and found to be as follows: Spitzer & Co., Toledo, $6,132; S. Kuhn & Son, Cincinnati, $6,288; W. G. McCullough, Wellsville, $6,240; Farson, Leech & Co., Chicago, $6,276; A. M. Rose & Co., Illion, N. Y., $6,090; Rudolph, Claybolt & Co., Cincinnati, $6,252; Lambrecht Bros., Cleveland, $6,201; Potters National, $6,010; First National, 6,216; Seasongood, Mayer & Co., Cincinnati, $6,365.60; S. A. King, Boston, $6,102.50; J. W. Longstreet, Boston, $6,104.82.

S. Kuhn & Son being the highest bidders were given the bonds, and Clerk Norris was ordered to notify them and have bonds printed at once. The board sold but $6,000 of the $18,000 voted by the people, as no more can be sold in one year under the statute. There were some unusual features connected with the sale. Two bids did not reach here in time, one having been mailed in Cincinnati an hour before the advertised time for closing on Saturday night, and the other not being mailed in Boston until Sunday morning. The board made a most favorable sale, and secured a good premium.

NO APPOINTMENT.

Council Will Not Have a Policeman to Talk About.

Council will meet in regular session this evening, and the meeting will probably be lengthy. Something definite will be done with the light contract. Routine business will also occupy attention for a time, but the appointment of a policeman will hardly be made before the next regular meeting.

GOLDEN EAGLE.

The Ladies Elected a New List of Officers Last Night.

The Ladies of the Golden Eagle last evening elected the following officers: Noble templar, Mrs. Mollie Brock; vice templar, Mrs. Bell Foster; priestess,

MOURNING HIS SON.

Mr. Watkins Has Not Yet Found His Boy.

The following was received at this office this morning: "Many thanks from myself and wife for the kind mention made in your paper of Dec. 16 of the disappearance of our son, Reno. He is still absent, and we have not heard from him."

Very truly,
B. F. WATKINS.

Mr. Watkins will be remembered as the gentleman who came here last week from Johnston, having heard his runaway boy had been seen in this place.

SNOW BALLING.

Small Boys Made It Warm For Pedestrians.

The small boys were out in force at noon today making life miserable for pedestrians. At the corner of Fifth and Washington streets at least 30 youngsters were snow balling every person who went by. The Calcutta mailcarrier drove up the street in a cart, and, seeing the gantlet he would have to run, stopped and warned the boys. He was beset in short order, and his hat knocked off. He got out and chased the lads, but finally gave it up in disgust.

A BUSY DAY.

Squire Rose Had His Hands More Than Full.

The court of Squire Rose was unusually busy this morning, and a number of cases were cleared from the docket. Jane Peck was given judgment against Hood Kinney for $18.99, the amount of a board bill; W. A. McCrea was given judgment and an execution against William Ivers for $78.57, the amount of a promissory note. Mollie Collins secured judgment against Mack Hindman for $35, which the young man owed for board.

THREE CASES.

Diphtheria Appears in as Many Different Families.

Since yesterday afternoon three cases of diphtheria have been reported to Health Officer Ogden. A child of Joshua Coleman, who lives in a shanty boat at the foot of Union street, George Kennedy, the well known ball player who lives in West End, and a child of Mr. Joos.

BLACK IN THE FACE

Was Mrs. Anne Hauck When They Found Her.

DEAD FOR OVER FOUR HOURS

Her Husband Said She Had Not Moved or Spoken in That Time—Hanging Over the Foot of the Bed—A Startling Death on Second Street.

Mrs. Anna Hauck, probably one of the best known women in the city, was found hanging over the foot of her bed in the rear of the Hauck restaurant, Second street, last night, dead.

The discovery was made by her son-in-law, William Zook, a fireman at the Knowles pottery. He went to the restaurant, and finding the door locked, walked to the second floor of the old opera house building, where Mrs. Hauck and her husband have rooms. Not gaining admission he returned to the restaurant, and saw Joseph Hauck, his father-in-law, behind the counter. After some delay Zook was admitted, and seeing Joe had been drinking, walked to the portion of the kitchen separated from the main room by a curtain. There he expected to find Mrs. Hauck, and he did.

In addition to the usual furniture of a kitchen, the place contains a bed, and hanging over the footboard was Mrs. Hauck. Her face was black and cold, and a glance was sufficient to tell the young man that all her earthly sorrows and troubles were at an end. He turned to her husband, and told him she was dead. He was surprised, but replied that she had been in that position for over four hours, and during that time had not moved or spoken a word. Zook hastened to the house of a neighbor, Mrs. Dorff, and calling in two men from the street, laid the body on the bed. Officer Jennings was summoned to keep back the crowd rapidly gathering, and Doctor Hobbs was notified by telephone. When the doctor arrived he said Mrs. Hauck had been dead three or four hours.

The story of the tragic discovery spread rapidly through the city, and Mayor Gilbert and Squire Rose were not long in reaching the place. The inquiry developed no information that would prompt any belief of foul play.

The events leading to the death of Mrs. Hauck differ but little from those found in her life for several years. She and her husband had not been on the best of terms, and she was ill. She purchased a bottle of medicine on Sunday morning, and had taken a third of it before the day was over. Yesterday the bottle was found empty.

Mrs. Hauck came here from Clarksburg, W. Va., 18 years ago, and has resided in the city since that time. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Zook, and her husband. Relatives living in Cumberland, Md., and Clarksburg, W. Va., have been notified, and when they reach the city, arrangements will be made for the funeral. Mrs. Hauck was 51 years old.

Joe Hauck this morning demanded that an inquest be held, and it will be conducted by Squire Rose this evening or tomorrow morning. It was arranged to have the physicians hold the autopsy this afternoon.

While searching the room last night Squire Rose found a bottle which had contained camphor and chloroform, and a bottle having in it no more than a tablespoonful of chloroform. What bearing these will have on the matter will develop at the inquest.

Their First Banquet.

The stage attaches of the Grand will hold their first banquet on the stage of the opera house Christmas day, between the afternoon and evening performances. A few friends of the boys will be invited, and it is expected at least 40 people will partake of the repast.

No Meeting Friday.

The clerks will not hold their regular meeting next Friday evening because it is Christmas. The union has almost given up the idea of holding a banquet on their first anniversary, but the subject will be discussed at their next meeting.

Mr. Wyman Is Better.

Squire Manley is ill at his home on East Market street.

John W. Wyman is somewhat improved today. Rumors were afloat again last evening that the gentleman was dead, but he was getting better.

The Brotherhood Fair.

All preparations for the Brotherhood fair are complete, and the rink is a bower of beauty. The fair will open tomorrow night, and continue one week.

After the matter was discussed for a few minutes, it was decided to make the appointment at the next meeting.

It developed that two notes, each for $2,250, were due at the Potters and First National banks Dec. 30, and two others, for $2,000 and $3,250, should be paid at the Potters Jan. 1. As the advance has not yet been received from Lisbon, it was decided to renew the notes until the money is placed to the credit of the board.

The bond bids were opened, and found to be as follows: Spitzer & Co., Toledo, $6,132; S. Kuhn & Son, Cincinnati, $6,288; W. G. McCullough, Wellsville, $6,240; Farson, Leech & Co., Chicago, $6,276; A. M. Rose & Co., Illion, N. Y., $6,090; Rudolph, Claybolt & Co., Cincinnati, $6,252; Lambrecht Bros., Cleveland, $6,201; Potters National, $6,010; First National, 6,216; Seasongood, Mayer & Co., Cincinnati, $6,265.60; S. A. King, Boston, $6,102.50; J. W. Longstreet, Boston, $6,104.82.

S. Kuhn & Son being the highest bidders were given the bonds, and Clerk Norris was ordered to notify them and have bonds printed at once. The board sold but $6,000 of the $18,000 voted by the people, as no more can be sold in one year under the statute. There were some unusual features connected with the sale. Two bids did not reach here in time, one having been mailed in Cincinnati an hour before the advertised time for closing on Saturday night, and the other not being mailed in Boston until Sunday morning. The board made a most favorable sale, and secured a good premium.

He got out and chased the lads, but finally gave it up in disgust.

BLACK IN THE FACE

Was Mrs. Anne Hauck When They Found Her.

DEAD FOR OVER FOUR HOURS

Her Husband Said She Had Not Moved or Spoken In That Time—Hanging Over the Foot of the Bed—A Startling Death on Second Street.

Mrs. Anna Hauck, probably one of the best known women in the city, was found hanging over the foot of her bed in the rear of the Hauck restaurant, Second street, last night, dead.

The discovery was made by her son-in-law, William Zook, a fireman at the Knowles pottery. He went to the restaurant, and finding the door locked, walked to the second floor of the old opera house building, where Mrs. Hauck and her husband have rooms. Not gaining admission he returned to the restaurant, and saw Joseph Hauck, his father-in-law, behind the counter. After some delay Zook was admitted, and seeing Joe had been drinking, walked to the portion of the kitchen separated from the main room by a curtain. There he expected to find Mrs. Hauck, and he did.

In addition to the usual furniture of a kitchen, the place contains a bed, and hanging over the footboard was Mrs. Hauck. Her face was black and cold, and a glance was sufficient to tell the young man that all her earthly sorrows and troubles were at an end. He turned to her husband, and told him she was dead. He was surprised, but replied that she had been in that position for over four hours, and during that time had not moved or spoken a word. Zook hastened to the house of a neighbor, Mrs. Dorff, and calling in two men from the street, laid the body on the bed. Officer Jennings was summoned to keep back the crowd rapidly gathering, and Doctor Hobbs was notified by telephone. When the doctor arrived he said Mrs. Hauck had been dead three or four hours.

The story of the tragic discovery spread rapidly through the city, and Mayor Gilbert and Squire Rose were not long in reaching the place. The inquiry developed no information that would prompt any belief of foul play.

The events leading to the death of Mrs. Hauck differ but little from those found in her life for several years. She and her husband had not been on the best of terms, and she was ill. She purchased a bottle of medicine on Sunday morning, and had taken a third of it before the day was over. Yesterday the bottle was found empty.

Mrs. Hauck came here from Clarksville, W. Va., 18 years ago, and has resided in the city since that time. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Zook, and her husband. Relatives living in Cumberland, Md., and Clarksville, W. Va., have been notified, and when they reach the city, arrangements will be made for the funeral. Mrs. Hauck was 51 years old.

Joe Hauck this morning demanded that an inquest be held, and it will be conducted by Squire Rose this evening or tomorrow morning. It was arranged to have the physicians hold the autopsy this afternoon.

While searching the room last night Squire Rose found a bottle which had contained camphor and chloroform, and a bottle having in it no more than a tablespoonful of chloroform. What bearing these will have on the matter will develop at the inquest.

Their First Banquet.

The stage attaches of the Grand will hold their first banquet on the stage of the opera house Christmas day, between the afternoon and evening performances. A few friends of the boys will be invited, and it is expected at least 40 people will partake of the repast.

No Meeting Friday.

The clerks will not hold their regular meeting next Friday evening because it is Christmas. The union has almost given up the idea of holding a banquet on their first anniversary, but the subject will be discussed at their next meeting.

Mr. Wyman Is Better.

Squire Manley is ill at his home on East Market street.

John W. Wyman is somewhat improved today. Rumors were afloat again last evening that the gentleman was dead, but he was getting better.

The Brotherhood Fair.

All preparations for the Brotherhood fair are complete, and the rink is a bower of beauty. The fair will open tomorrow night, and continue one week.

LODGE'S BILL FAVORED.

A Report Made to the Federation Convention on Immigration.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 22.—The report of the special committee on immigration has been read to the American Federation of Labor by Mr. P. J. McGuire of Philadelphia. Instead of reporting a bill, he recommended that the Lodge bill, No. 7864, now pending in congress be passed, and that this be the recommendation of the American Federation of Labor to congress and the president.

It furthermore recommends that the executive council be empowered and directed to employ a competent attorney to draw a bill on the restriction of immigration to be presented to congress with the petition that it be passed.

Among the provisions of this proposed bill were these: That foreign consuls emigration agents to pass upon the qualifications of emigrants before they set out for this country; that all immigrants received here should be required within a reasonable time to become naturalized citizens; that paupers and criminals be excluded; that an educational test be required; that penalties for violation of the alien contract law be increased.

This report was amended to refer it to the executive council with instructions to refer it to all the affiliated unions, and that its fate depend upon their aggregate decision. In this shape the report was adopted by 30 to 22. It met some opposition in debate.

A Nation of Medicine Takers.

It is an accepted fact that the American people are the greatest users of medicines of one sort or another on the face of the earth. Imaginary ills make up a large part of man's earthly troubles.

Some people need only to read the vivid description of some chronic disease, and they are at once victims to the complaint in question. Many patent medicine venders make use of this peculiarity and lead some people to believe that their tired feeling comes from their blood not being rich and red. Millions would be saved and our general health would be better if we would take medicine only when really needed and then get a remedy specially prepared for the disease with which we are suffering.

As an illustration, when you have sore throat, there can't be any imagination about it. Your throat hurts; probably is covered with white ulcerated spots, and you know you need a remedy. Use good judgment. Get a cure put up for this one purpose. There is such a remedy. Tonsiline is its name, and it is a wonder in its field. Being put up for this one class of diseases, it cures quickly, surely, many times as fast as any other remedy. As it is a certain cure for Sore Throat, Sore Mouth, Croup and Quinsy. Ask your neighbors who have used it. All druggists sell Tonsiline. 25 and 50 cents.

AN INDEPENDENT CUBA

Island's Senate Friends Continue Agitation.

VEST PROMISES A WARM FIGHT.

He Announces a Sharp Speech on Secretary Olney's Stand on the Prerogative of the President—Number of New Cuban Resolutions.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—The Cuban agitation still continues. The senate was literally deluged for half an hour with reports, resolutions and spirited colloquies on the Cuban question. The intense public interest in this subject was shown by the presence of the largest crowds seen since the opening day of the session. All available space in the public galleries was taken and the diplomatic gallery had such distinguished occupants as Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador, Baron von Hengelmüller, the Austrian minister, Mr. Hatch, the Hawaiian minister, accompanied by the suites and ladies of the embassies and legations. The main event was the presentation by Mr. Morgan of the report of the committee on foreign relations favorable to his resolution recognizing the independence of Cuba.

This proceedings was brief and perfunctory, the report not being read, and an agree ment speedily reached by which the resolution and report go over until after the holidays. Aside from the Cameron report Mr. Morgan (Ala.) presented a further report on the same lines, embodying the views of himself and Mr. Mills. The offering of the reports served as a prelude to several brisk exchanges between senators. Mr. Hill (N. Y.) desired to know whether the reports went into the constitutional question of the legislative power of recognition of independence. Mr. Cameron promptly answered that everybody conceded this power and Mr.

Morgan pointedly added that a denial of such power was "preposterous."

Mr. Vest also came forward with some remarks which promised to give a sharp personal turn to the debate. He spoke of his astonishment in seeing Secretary Olney's public statement declaring that the executive alone had the power to recognize independence.

Mr. Vest had hardly begun when Mr. Hale (Rep., Me.) made a point of order against him on the ground that debate was out of order. The Missouri senator willingly yielded, announcing that he would speak again upon the resolution he had offered, declaring that recognition of independence is a joint power of the legislative and executive branches.

Several other Cuban resolutions were offered, those of Mr. Hill and Mr. Culom declaring that a state of war existed in Cuba warranting the recognition of the belligerent rights of both parties and calling for the observance of strict neutrality by the United States; and one by Mr. Bacon, declaring that the power of recognizing independence is a prerogative belonging exclusively to the congress.

Mr. Sherman, from the committee on foreign relations, reported favorably the resolutions of Mr. Call, asking for information relative to American citizens confined in Spanish prisons, and this was agreed to by the senate.

Senator Cameron's report was very voluminous. He reported the resolutions already given in these dispatches. He says:

"Congress, at its last session, adopted, with practical unanimity, the view expressed by your committee that the time had come for intervention with Spain for the recognition of the independence of Cuba. Spain, having declined to listen to any representation founded on an understanding between herself and the insurgents, and congress having pledged itself to friendly intervention, the only question that remains to be decided is the nature of the next step to be taken with proper regard to the customs and usages of nations."

"Before deciding this question, your committee has preferred to examine with some care all the instances which have occurred during this century of insurgent peoples claiming independence by right of revolt. For convenience we have regarded both insurrection and intervention as recognized rights, and have attempted to ascertain the limits within which these rights have been exercised, and their force admitted by the general consent of nations."

"He quotes European precedents of insurrection and intervention and says:

"Besides the four precedents of Greece, Belgium, Poland and Hungary, where new nationalities were in question, a much larger number of interventions occurred in Europe in the process of disruption or consolidation which has, on one hand, disintegrated the ancient empires of the sultan, of Spain, of the church; and on the other, concentrated the new system of Germany, Russia and Italy."

"In regard to Asia, probably all authorities agree that the entire fabric of European supremacy, whether in Asiatic Turkey, Persia, Afghanistan, India, Siam or China, rest on the right of intervention."

The American precedents are handled exclusively. It says that America, both North and South, has always aimed to moderate European intervention and to restrict its exercise.

Monroe's act, which extinguished the last hope of the Holy Alliance in America, produced the deepest sensation among European conservatives, and gave to the United States extraordinary consideration. England used it as a weapon at the congress at Verona to threaten the other powers, and when they decided on intervention in Spain Canning came wholly over to the side of Monroe, as France and Austria forced his hands in Spain.

The principle thus avowed by Canning added little to the European law of intervention; but the principle avowed by Monroe created an entire body of act it meant little, but in Monroe's view it was not an isolated act; it was part of a system, altogether new and wholly American. From that day to this the American people have always, and unanimously, supported and approved the Monroe doctrine. They needed no reasoning to prove that it was vital to their safety.

The report next takes up the cases of Texas, Hayti and San Domingo to show that the right of intervention was asserted in each instance.

The report then gives the circumstances under which the Southern Confederacy was recognized, tracing the diplomatic correspondence, and concludes as follows:

"The right of intervention in matters relating to the external relations of Cuba, asserted and exercised 70 years ago, has been asserted and exercised at every crisis in which the island has been involved. When the Cuban insurgents in 1895 appealed to the United States for recognition President Grant admitted the justice of the claim and directed the minister of the United States at Madrid to interpose our good offices with the Spanish government in order to obtain by a friendly arrangement the independence of the island."

"Although the president appears to have reached a different conclusion from ours, we being unable to see that further delay could lead to any other action than that which the president anticipates, we agree with the conclusion of the message, that, in such case, our obligations to the sovereignty of Spain are superseded by higher obligations which we can hardly hesitate to recognize and discharge."

Following closely the action of President Monroe in 1818, congress has already declared in effect its opinion that there can be no rational interference except on the basis of independence."

In September, 1895, as we know by official documents printed on the spot, the insurgent government was regularly organized, a constitution adopted, a president elected, and, in due course, the various branches of administration set in motion. Since then, so far as we are informed, this government has continued to perform its functions undisturbed. On the military side, we officially know, they have organized, equipped and maintained in the field sufficient forces to baffle the exertions of 200,000 soldiers. On the civil side, they have organized their system of administration in every province, for, as we know officially, they "room at will over at least two-thirds of the inland country." Diplomatically, they have maintained a regularly accredited representative in the United States for the past year, who has never ceased to ask recognition and to offer all possible information.

"The government of the United States entertains none but the friendliest feelings toward Spain. The most anxious wish is to avoid even the appearance of an unfriendliness which is wholly foreign to its thought. For more than 100 years, amid divergent or conflicting interests and under frequent and severe strains, the two governments have succeeded in avoiding collision, and there is no friendly office which Spain could ask, which the United States within the limits of their established principles and policy, would not be glad to extend. In the present instances they are actuated by an earnest wish to avoid the danger of seeming to provoke a conflict."

The report presenting additional views on the Cuban question was presented to the senate by Senator Morgan (Ala.) in behalf of himself and Senator Mills. It endorses Senator Cameron's views and takes a strong stand against the president's attitude.

WHAT IS NATURAL GAS?

New York Courts Trying to Decide Whether or Not It Is a Mineral.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—The question, "Is natural gas a mineral?" is before Judges Lacomb, Wallace and Shipman, constituting the United States circuit court of appeals for this circuit, and a decision is expected in a few days.

The question was raised in the suit of the United States against the Buffalo Natural Gas and Fuel company, which has a pipe line connecting with Shirkston, Ont.

The collector thought natural gas dutiable at 10 per cent, but was reversed by the general appraisers and New York Northern district circuit court, declaring that natural gas was crude bitumen.

Notwithstanding this finding, the United States considered the collector's classification proper and that natural gas is not crude bitumen, but an article within the meaning of the tariff law, which says:

"All raw or unmanufactured articles not enumerated in this act must pay 10 per cent duty," brought the question before the court of appeals of this court.

In behalf of the Buffalo Natural Gas and Fuel company, it was contended that the gas is a crude mineral and therefore exempt from duty under the paragraph specified.

WHAT IS NATURAL GAS?

New York Courts Trying to Decide Whether or Not It Is a Mineral.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—The question, "Is natural gas a mineral?" is before Judges Lacomb, Wallace and Shipman, constituting the United States circuit court of appeals for this circuit, and a decision is expected in a few days.

The question was raised in the suit of the United States against the Buffalo Natural Gas and Fuel company, which has a pipe line connecting with Shirkston, Ont.

The collector thought natural gas dutiable at 10 per cent, but was reversed by the general appraisers and New York Northern district circuit court, declaring that natural gas was crude bitumen.

Notwithstanding this finding, the United States considered the collector's classification proper and that natural gas is not crude bitumen, but an article within the meaning of the tariff law, which says:

"All raw or unmanufactured articles not enumerated in this act must pay 10 per cent duty," brought the question before the court of appeals of this court.

In behalf of the Buffalo Natural Gas and Fuel company, it was contended that the gas is a crude mineral and therefore exempt from duty under the paragraph specified.

LODGE'S BILL FAVORED.

A Report Made to the Federation Convention on Immigration.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 22.—The report of the special committee on immigration has been read to the American Federation of Labor by Mr. P. J. McGuire of Philadelphia. Instead of reporting a bill, it recommended that the Lodge bill, No. 7864, now pending in congress be passed, and that this be the recommendation of the American Federation of Labor to congress and the president.

It furthermore recommends that the executive council be empowered and directed to employ a competent attorney to draw a bill on the restriction of immigration to be presented to congress with the petition that it be passed. Among the provisions of this proposed bill were these: That foreign consuls emigration agents to pass upon the qualifications of emigrants before they set out for this country; that all immigrants received here should be required within a reasonable time to become naturalized citizens; that paupers and criminals be excluded; that an educational test be required; that penalties for violation of the alien contract law be increased.

This report was amended to refer it to the executive council with instructions to refer it to all the affiliated unions, and that its fate depend upon their aggregate decision. In this shape the report was adopted by 30 to 22. It met some opposition in debate.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—The senate in executive session confirmed the following nomination: Frank Speas-maker, postmaster at London, O.

A Nation of Medicine Takers.

It is an accepted fact that the American people are the greatest users of medicines of one sort or another on the face of the earth. Imaginary ills make up a large part of man's earthly troubles. Some people need only to read the description of some chronic disease, and they are at once victims to the complaint in question. Many patent medicine vendors make use of this peculiarity and lead some people to believe that their tired feeling comes from their blood not being rich and red. Millions would be saved and our general health would be better if we would take medicine only when really needed and then get a remedy specially prepared for the disease with which we are suffering.

As an illustration, when you have sore throat, there can't be any imagination about it. Your throat hurts; probably is covered with white ulcerated spots, and you know you need a remedy. Use good judgment. Get a cure put up for this one purpose. There is such a remedy. Tonsiline is its name, and it is a wonder in its field. Being put up for this one class of diseases, it cures quickly, surely, and many times as if by magic. No family can afford to be without Tonsiline in the home, as it is a certain cure for Sore Throat, Sore Mouth, Croup and Quinsy. Ask your neighbors who have used it. All druggists sell Tonsiline. 25 and 50 cents.

AN INDEPENDENT CUBA

Island's Senate Friends Continue Agitation.

VEST PROMISES A WARM FIGHT.

He Announces a Sharp Speech on Secretary Olney's Stand on the Prerogative of the President—Number of New Cuban Resolutions.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—The Cuban agitation still continues. The senate was literally deluged for half an hour with reports, resolutions and spirited colloquies on the Cuban question. The intense public interest in this subject was shown by the presence of the largest crowds seen since the opening day of the session. All available space in the public galleries was taken and the diplomatic gallery had such distinguished occupants as Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador, Baron von Hengelmüller, the Austrian minister, Mr. Hatch, the Hawaiian minister, accompany by the suites and ladies of the embassies and legations. The main event was the presentation by Mr. Cameron of the report of the committee on foreign relations favorable to his resolution recognizing the independence of Cuba.

This proceedings was brief and perfunctory, the report not being read, and an agreeable meeting reached by which the resolution and report go over until after the holidays. Aside from the Cameron report Mr. Morgan (Ala.) presented a further report on the same subject, embodying the views of himself and Mr. Mills. The offering of the reports served as a prelude to several brisk exchanges between senators. Mr. Hill (N. Y.) desired to know whether the reports went into the constitutional question of the legislative power of recognition of independence. Mr. Cameron promptly answered that every body conceded this power and Mr.

Morgan pointedly added that a denial of such power was "preposterous."

Mr. Vest also came forward with some remarks which promised to give a sharp personal turn to the debate. He spoke of his astonishment in seeing Secretary Olney's public statement declaring that the executive alone had the power to recognize independence.

Mr. Vest had hardly begun when Mr. Hale (Rep., Me.) made a point of order against him on the ground that debate was out of order. The Missouri senator willingly yielded, announcing that he would speak again upon the resolution he had offered, declaring that recognition of independence is a joint power of the legislative and executive branches.

Several other Cuban resolutions were offered, those of Mr. Hill and Mr. Culom declaring that a state of war existed in Cuba warranting the recognition of the belligerent rights of both parties and calling for the observance of strict neutrality by the United States; and one by Mr. Bacon, declaring that the power of recognizing independence is a prerogative belonging exclusively to the congress.

Mr. Sherman, from the committee on foreign relations, reported favorably the resolutions of Mr. Call, asking for information relative to American citizens confined in Spanish prisons, and this was agreed to by the senate.

Senator Cameron's report was very voluminous. He reported the resolutions already given in these dispatches. He says:

"Congress, at its last session, adopted, with practical unanimity, the view expressed by your committee that the time had come for intervention with Spain for the recognition of the independence of Cuba. Spain, having declined to listen to any representation founded on an understanding between herself and the insurgents, and congress having pledged itself to friendly intervention, the only question that of the next step to be taken with proper regard to the customs and usages of nations."

"Before deciding this question, your committee has preferred to examine with some care all the instances which have occurred during this century of insurgent peoples claiming independence by right of revolt. For convenience we have regarded both insurrection and intervention as recognized rights, and have attempted to ascertain the limits within which these rights have been exercised, and their force admitted by the general consent of nations."

He quotes European precedents of insurrection and intervention and says: "Besides the four precedents of Greece, Belgium, Poland and Hungary, where new nationalities were in question, a much larger number of interventions occurred in Europe in the process of disintegration or consolidation which has, on one hand, disintegrated the ancient empires of the sultan, of Spain, of the church; and on the other, concentrated the new system of Germany, Russia and Italy."

"In regard to Asia, probably all authorities agree that the entire fabric of European supremacy, whether in Asiatic Turkey, Persia, Afghanistan, India, Siam or China, rest on the right of intervention."

The American precedents are handled

exclusively. It says that America, born North and South, has always aimed to moderate European intervention and to restrict its exercise.

Monroe's act, which extinguished the last hopes of the Holy Alliance in America, produced the deepest sensation among European conservatives, and gave to the United States extraordinary consideration. England used it as a weapon at the congress at Verona to threaten the other powers, and when they decided on intervention in Spain Canning came wholly over to the side of Monroe, as France and Austria forced his hands in Spain.

The principle thus avowed by Canning added little to the European law of intervention; but the principle avowed by Monroe created an entire body of American jurisprudence. As an isolated act it meant little, but in Monroe's view it was not an isolated act; it was part of a system, altogether new and wholly American. From that day to this the American people have always and unanimously supported and approved the Monroe doctrine. They needed no reasoning to prove that it was vital to their safety.

The report next takes up the cases of Texas, Hayti and San Domingo to show that the right of intervention was asserted in each instance.

The report then gives the circumstances under which the Southern Confederacy was recognized, tracing the diplomatic correspondence, and concludes as follows:

"The right of intervention in matters relating to the external relations of Cuba, asserted and exercised 70 years ago, has been asserted and exercised at every crisis in which the island has been involved. When the Cuban insurgents in 1895 appealed to the United States for recognition, President Grant admitted the justice of the claim and directed the minister of the United States at Madrid to interpose our good offices with the Spanish government in order to obtain by a friendly arrangement the independence of the island."

"Although the president appears to have reached a different conclusion from ours, we being unable to see that further delay could lead to any other action than that which the president anticipates, we agree with the conclusion of the message, that, in such case, our obligations to the sovereignty of Spain are superseded by higher obligations which we can hardly hesitate to recognize and discharge."

Following closely the action of President Monroe in 1818, congress has already declared in effect its opinion that there can be no rational interference except on the basis of independence. In September, 1895, as we know by official documents printed on the spot, the insurgent government was regularly organized, a constitution adopted, a president elected, and, in due course, the various branches of administration set in motion. Since then, so far as we are informed, this government has continued to perform its functions undisturbed. On the military side, as we officially know, they have organized, equipped and maintained in the field sufficient forces to baffle the exertions of 300,000 soldiers. On the civil side, they have organized their system of administration in every province, for, as we know officially, they "roam at will over at least two-thirds of the inland country." Diplomatically, they have maintained a regularly accredited representative in the United States for the past year, who has never ceased to ask recognition and to offer all possible information.

"The government of the United States entertains none but the friendliest feelings toward Spain. The most anxious wish is to avoid even the appearance of an unfriendliness which is wholly foreign to its thought. For more than 100 years, amid divergent or conflicting interests, the two governments have succeeded in avoiding collision, and there is no friendly office which Spain could ask, which the United States within the limits of their established principles and policy, would not be glad to extend. In the present instances they are actuated by an earnest wish to avoid the danger of seeming to provoke a conflict."

The report presenting additional views on the Cuban question was presented to the senate by Senator Morgan (Ala.) in behalf of himself and Senator Mills. It endorses Senator Cameron's views and takes a strong stand against the president's attitude.

WHAT IS NATURAL GAS?

New York Courts Trying to Decide Whether or Not It Is a Mineral.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—The question, "is natural gas a mineral?" is before Judges Lacombe, Wallace and Shipman, constituting the United States circuit court of appeals for this circuit, and a decision is expected in a few days.

The question was raised in the suit of the United States against the Buffalo Natural Gas and Fuel company, which has a pipe line connecting with Shirkston, Ont.

The collector thought natural gas taxable at 10 per cent, but was reversed by the general appraisers and New York Northern district circuit court, declaring that natural gas was crude bitumen.

Notwithstanding this finding, the United States considered the collector's classification proper and that natural gas is not crude bitumen, but an article within the meaning of the tariff law, which says:

"All raw or unmanufactured articles not enumerated in this act must pay 10 per cent duty," brought the question before the court of appeals of this court.

In behalf of the Buffalo Natural Gas and Fuel company, it was contended that the gas is a crude mineral and therefore exempt from duty under the paragraph specified.

NO STATE HOUSE IMPROVEMENT.

Bids Were to Be Opened in January, but Nothing Has Been Done Yet.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 22.—The improvement of the ancient and honorable structure known as the statehouse is not progressing rapidly. Indeed it is not progressing at all. The machinery set in motion by the legislature for the remodeling of the capitol is not running.

It was expected that the contract would be let early in January, but advertisements for proposals have not appeared and no steps have been taken toward this. The commission proper has adjourned indefinitely, subject to the call of the governor, and the firm of architects whose plans were adopted by the previous board, in alarm at the situation, has retained the services of ex-Secretary of State D. J. Ryan as attorney to push things.

The building commission is unwilling to assume the responsibility of building the new statehouse while it has no authority to protect the interests of the state.

The improvement will entail a public expenditure of at least $1,500,000, and the gentlemen who are to be held accountable for the proper disbursement of this immense sum are to let the contracts and then go home. That they hesitate to put themselves in this position does not imply lack of confidence in the architects, but is merely the legitimate caution of reputable business men.

A Missing Man's Body Found.

TOLEDO, Dec. 22.—The body of Jesse G. Gould, who disappeared Dec. 8, and of whom no trace could be discovered, was found in some brush near the bank of the Maumee river, with a bullet hole through the temple. It is supposed to be a case of suicide. Gould was vice president and treasurer of the Leland-Smith company, wholesale tabacconists, which failed the day after his disappearance.

Will Let the Boycott Drop.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 22.—A leading railway man said that a resolution was adopted by the Joint Traffic association in New York last week to let the "Clover Leaf" boycott drop. This action was taken on the implied assurance that the "Clover Leaf" would not press its injunction case against the Lake Shore, Nickel Plate and Michigan Central companies. It is believed that the injunction will never be heard.

Last night Officer Bertele added another to his long list of arrests. William Downard is the victim. Tony found him on Sixth street struggling with some unforseen agency that sadly handicapped him in his movements. The patrol was called, and Downard taken to city hall. FERGUSON WAS AFRAID
So He Did Not Appear Against Robert Pittenger.

CLAIMS HE WAS THREATENED
And Told Judge Smith All About It When He Was Called For Contempt—The Simms Case Heard—Abundant News From Lisbon.

Lisbon, Dec. 23.—[Special.]—William Ferguson, of Clarkson, the prosecuting witness who failed to appear in the case of Robert Pittenger, who was accused of horse stealing, was brought in last evening on a charge of contempt, and sent to the county jail for 15 days.

Ferguson said on the witness stand that the evening before the Pittenger trial he was threatened that if he appeared to prosecute Pittenger for taking his horse, he would be dealt with by the East Liverpool gang who would take the matter up. He was also told if he got into trouble for not appearing his fine would be paid. He finally admitted that the parties who threatened him were William Founts, Frank Rigott, T. M. Bradley and one Eberstein, of a wholesale liquor firm in Liverpool. He was given money, he stated, with which to go away. This he did, but returned in four days. The action of the saloonists was because the father of the young Pittenger had threatened to hold them responsible, in a measure, for his son's trouble.

Criminal work was disposed of with dispatch in common pleas yesterday afternoon when Heckathorn, Wickline, Kring, and Green signified their acknowledgment of guilt, and threw themselves upon the mercy of the court. George Heckathorn, of East Liverpool, accused of brutally beating and kicking his wife in a manner which broke her hip, claimed that he was innocent. Her injuries, he said, were received through a fall from her chair while under the influence of liquor. His plea of guilty was made simply to save his wife the disgrace of coming into court. He got 60 days in the Canton workhouse with the costs.

Lewis Kring and Lewis Wickline, Salem youths, who Dec. 6, were caught burglarizing a saloon, pleaded intoxication as the cause. It was shown they had entered through the transom. They will go to the Mansfield reformatory.

The charge against Edward Green, of Salem, was assault and battery, under which he has been in the Lisbon jail for three months. On his plea of guilty he got $10 and costs.

The grand and petit jurors were drawn from the wheel last evening, to report for duty Jan. 18, the former at 10 o'clock and the others at one.

The grand jury—Samuel McLean, George W. Croxall, Liverpool; T. W. Frazier, Madison; E. Reeder, Hanover; D. G. Raily, Elk Run; S. McClain, C. H. Suedickler, John W. Riley, Wellsville; J. H. Levan, Fairfield; M. Bricker, Negley; H. Bailey, H. P. Bolton, Knox; J. Peppel, Salem; J. Roseburg, Jr., Wayne; C. Townsend, Perry.

The other jury is for duty in the court of Judge Young, Jan. 4, when three Salem liquor cases will be tried. Charles McPherson is the only Liverpool man on the jury.

Judge Robinson came over from Youngstown last evening for the purpose of taking the evidence of Judge Smith, and the arguments were made in the J. H. Simms claim against the county commissioners for advertising in the Zeitang. The action has been pending for five years, and asks $2,751.23. The case was heard by Judge Robinson during the May term, but in the absence of Judge Smith was held over.

Judge Smith said that Simms came to him as prosecutor concerning the publication, and he told him the payment of the bill then accruing would be determined by the outcome of the mandamus proceedings at that time pending. Judge Nichols held that Simms was entitled to relief only to the time of filing the answer, or to June, 1889. After this decision Judge Smith informed Simms that he wished to terminate the arrangement concerning payment, as he thought that with Judge Nichols' decision all litigation should cease. Judge Robinson left for home today, taking with him the papers in the case, and will forward his decision in a short time. It will be awaited with interest.

WELLSVILLE.
FULL FORCE, FULL TIME.

And They Are Working Double Time as Well.

The gloom which promised to spread through Wellsville because of shut down and short time at the shops has been dispersed by the announcement that the iron works were running full time with a full force and double turn. The order became operative yesterday, and gives steady employment to a large number of men. There is renewed activity throughout the plant, and the improvements now being made make all feel happy, from Manager Everson down.

SOME BUSINESS.
But Not a Great Deal Is Being Done by the City.

Mayor Jones has recovered, and is well enough to look after business, but business in police court appears to be almost a thing of the past. George Dickey and David Reiger appeared last evening to answer a charge of disorderly conduct, and said they were innocent. The trial was set for 6:30 this evening.

Another case was on the docket for hearing last night, but the defendant did not appear and it will be heard again.

Only One Day.
The employees of the Buckeye will only have one day during the holiday season, and that will be Christmas. The plant is in operation with a good force, and the orders at hand will keep them steadily in operation for some time.

The Patterson pottery closed yesterday until after the holidays. Repairs will be made, and the plant will be improved.

Some work is being done at the shops, but more men are expected to receive notification of a few days of rest before the week is over.

Martin Tobin, of West End, has been given up by the doctors, and at the last report was expected to die at any moment. He has been ill for two months with fever.
The Pirates and West End players decided to postpone their football contest until next fall, and it did not take place. The grounds were in such condition as to make postponement imperative.
Frank McClellan, of this place, was driving with a friend near Bowling Green, Jefferson county, when the horse took fright and ran away. He was thrown from the buggy, but not seriously hurt.

GOOD FOR THE HEPS.

On last Saturday, December 19, the widow of deceased received a check in full, the claim being settled in advance of that of all other associations in which the brother was insured.

Conclave 277 is in first class condition, socially, numerically and financially. You will find it decidedly to your advantage, if not already a member, to seek entrance thereto.

GOOD WORDS FOR CUBA
The House Would Like to See It a Republic.

WAR WITH SPAIN ANOTHER THING
Hon. R. W. Taylor Shows the Sentiment in the Lower Branch of Congress—Information Is Wanted Before Action Is Taken.

Lisbon, Dec. 22.—[Special.]—Hon. R. W. Taylor, representing the Eighteenth district in congress, arrived home this morning from Washington, and was compelled to answer many questions regarding the position of the house toward Cuba. When seen by a News Review representative Mr. Taylor said: "The house will not take up the matter until after January 5, if, indeed, action can be taken so soon. Should there be delay in the senate the resolution will not come to us by that time. I do not believe a resolution of that kind will originate in the house, but it all depends upon what reliable information comes from Cuba. The dispatches are of the most conflicting nature, and it is difficult to tell just what is happening. The information in the possession of President Cleveland, if given to the public, might seriously affect the conditions under which General Lee obtained it in Cuba. There is powerful sentiment for Cuba in the house, and everybody would be glad to see Cuba an organized republic; but whether we shall go to war with Spain in order to bring this about is a question by no means decided."

Mr. Taylor will spend the greater part of the holiday recess in Lisbon, but will visit East Liverpool before returning to Washington. He was unable to give the date of his visit to Liverpool.

THE NEW LIBRARY.
Most of the Session of the House Takes Up Debating It.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—The house has practically completed the consideration of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bills. Almost the whole session was devoted to a debate on the provision of the bill relating to the control of the congressional library. Both the appropriations and library committees offered plans for the future care of the building. After a somewhat acrimonious contest the appropriations committee gained the victory, defeating the substitute of the library committee by a vote of 27 to 55.

An amendment designed to place the service law was also defeated—27 to 73. Under the provisions of the bill, as adopted, Librarian Spofford will continue in office with an increase of salary from $4,000 to $5,000.

The senate amendments to the immigration bill were not concurred in and a conference agreed to.

CHICAGO'S BIG FAILURES.
Action of the Clearing House Will Prevent Further Trouble.

CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—The National Bank of Illinois, generally considered one of the strongest financial institutions in the west, closed its doors today, and the failure dragged down three other concerns, F. S. Drayer & Co., Wasmansdorf, Heineman & Co. and the Roseland bank.

The failure of the National Bank of Illinois was due to the fact that its entire capital of $2,000,000 and $100,000 over and above its surplus of $300,000 had been loaned on Calumet Electric railroad stock, $500,000 was loaned to Drayer & Co., who had spread their capital out so extensively that they were unable to concentrate it in time to save themselves.

The other failures were due to the locking up of assets, held by the National Bank of Illinois, and which were not available when that institution closed its doors.

No further trouble is expected, as the Clearinghouse association has agreed to pay 75 per cent of the deposits in the National Bank of Illinois.

KNIFED AS HE PRAYED.
A Negro Tortured and Lynched at Mayfield, Ky.

MAYFIELD, Dec. 22.—Stone, the negro rapist, has been taken from the county jail and lynched by a mob. He assaulted Mrs. J. R. Greene, a white woman.

The negro made a statement to the effect that another negro committed the crime, but the mob paid no attention to his words. The negro offered prayer, while knives were being plunged into his body, but to no avail. The men were convinced of his guilt and acted accordingly. A placard was pinned on his body announcing that he should not be taken down until noon today, and also naming several other negroes residing in the city to take warning.

Has Sued Eighteen Firms.
BOSTON, Dec. 22.—The Boston Safe Deposit and Trust company has brought suits against 18 firms and has levied attachments, each in the sum of $50,000 against several banks, holders of securities misappropriated by the defaulting treasurer, Frank O. Miles. Miles, in a letter in which he confessed his default to President Stone, stated that if certain investments made by him were carefully handled the amount of the default would not exceed $100,000.

Killed an Uninvited Guest.
CASPER, WY., Dec. 22.—At Thermopolis, Fremont county, B. F. Hanson, deputy sheriff, owner of the townsite and a wealthy man, gave a dance to which Thomas Bird, a wealthy cattleman and rival magnate, came uninvited. He was promptly shot twice and killed.

Wounded a Dangerous Fanatic.
BRIDGTON, N. J., Dec. 22.—Antonio Jorio, the religious fanatic who murdered his father near Vineland last week, lies in the courthouse here with two bullets in his arms and a gaping wound five inches long on his head. He was shot down by Sheriff Cheeseman while trying to murder the jailers.

Many a free man who is sick would willingly change places with a healthy convict. A man might as well be shut out of enjoyment one way as another. If he cannot engage in active pleasures. He cannot see the beauties of nature and art, but he can imagine them, and so get some benefit from them. A man who is sick sees these things before him, but he doesn't see them as they exist. He cannot look on anything with appreciative eyes. His physical condition warps his vision and his mentality. He cannot enjoy anything, no matter how enjoyable it may be in the abstract. A man with a foul taste in his mouth, with a bilious headache, and with poison in his matter circulating all through his body cannot enjoy anything. He honestly believes that the world is all wrong, and that it is a mighty poor place to be in. He is blue, despondent, cynical. Life isn't worth living to him. Such a simple thing causes this condition that it is absurd and ridiculous to think of a sensible man remaining in it. Symptoms like these come from constipation. It is the most prevalent of all causes of sickness. It makes a man worth less for work or pleasure. It is a stubborn trouble when you do not treat it properly, and a simple one when you do. It is cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They were made for this purpose, and no other preparation ever did. An unscrupulous druggist may try to sell you something else. Look out! It is your health that is at stake. It is your health against an extra profit on the thing he says is "just as good." Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets—don't forget—don't take anything else.

A STRAY BIT OF NEWS
Picked Up on Church Alley by Our Representative.

When our readers are told that Mr. C. McLean, of 187 Church Alley, has lived amongst us for eleven years, that he conducted three years ago a brick manufactory, and retired from it to enter the East Liverpool Pottery Co.'s employ, ample proof can be produced that all this is so, for Mr. McLean is in the city to verify or contradict it. It is the same with the assertions contained in his statement that follows. You have only to interview the gentleman, when a personal corroboration will begin to what here for the first time is made public. No doubt or suspicion can be thrown on it. Such evidence must be convincing, conclusive, indisputable. Read it. Mr. McLean says: "I used to be troubled a great deal with muscular rheumatism, but the last three years the whole trouble seems to have settled in my back and kidneys, and caused much pain and suffering, the last year being the worst. I had a steady aching pain in my kidneys; extreme weakness in the muscles of the back; could not rest at night except lying flat on my back; and there was a urinary weakness accompanying it. Although I had many bad attacks and used many different medicines, I never obtained any relief. The worst attack I ever had, and which completely used me up, occurred a short time ago. Not having much faith left in medicine, I was rather skeptical when I was recommended to try Doan's Kidney Pills, but I got so bad that I had to get something, so I went for a box to the W. & W. Pharmacy. I am glad to say they are the best thing I ever tried. They went direct to the kidneys, and acted on the very fountain head of all the trouble, relieving me in a very short time. I highly recommend them."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50c. per box, or sent by mail on receipt of price. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.
